What's the Purpose of This Report?

This is the 32nd year that a report of this nature has been compiled and published. The report was begun in 1986 by Harvey Mudd, was taken on by Phil Davis in the early 1990s, and then was passed on to Norm Saunders with the 2001 List Report. After Norm's decade or so of service, Russ Ruffing assumed the reins beginning with the 2011 Report and lasting through the 2015 Report. There was no report for 2016 and 2017, then Dave Powell produced the 2018 Report. There was no report for 2019, but Russ Ruffing volunteered to produce this report for 2020.

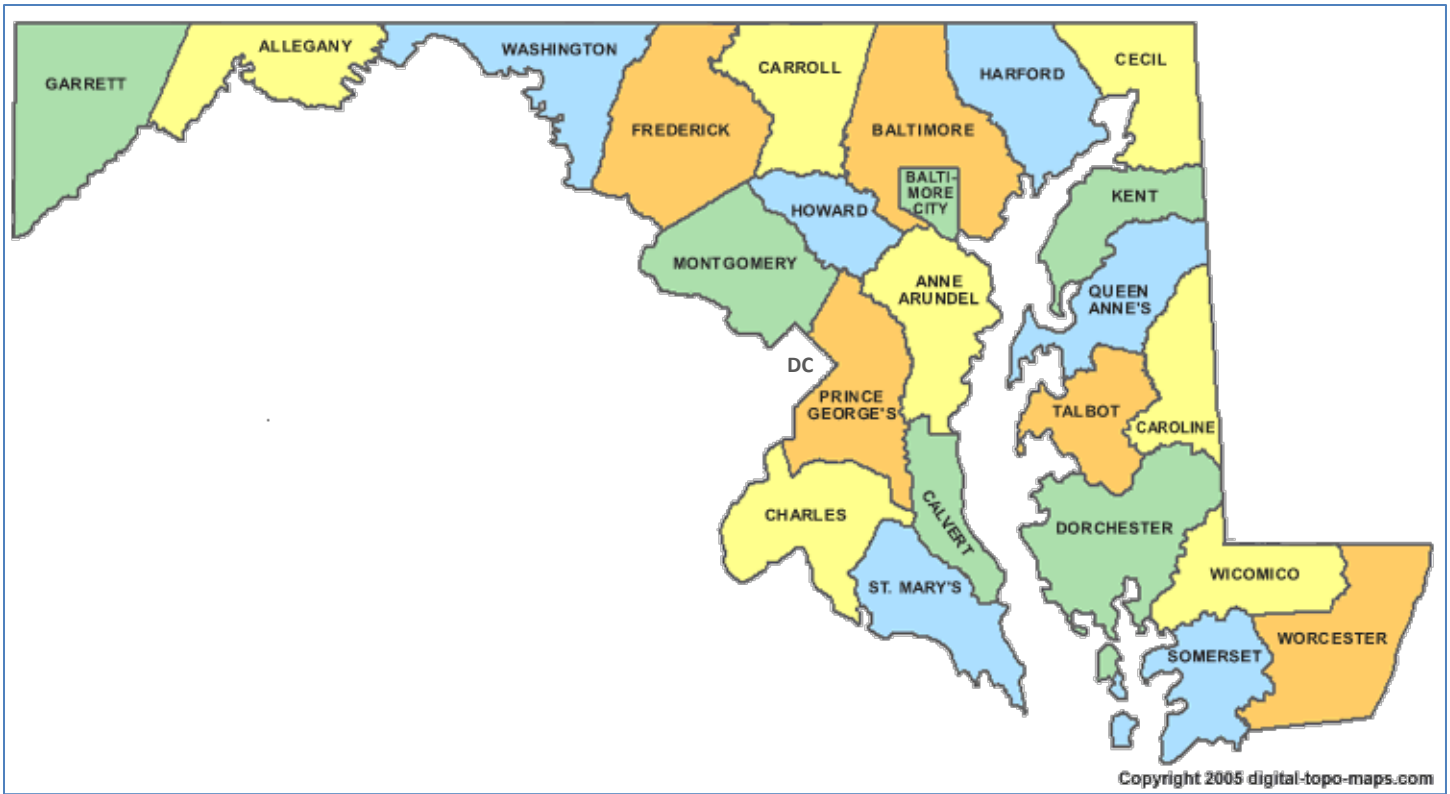

This year's report follows the same basic format that Russ began in 2011, but does not include the major summaries of individual counties or the District of Columbia as in past years. It does include all of the current Big Day data that is available for statewide, county, and major region Big Days.

Acknowledgements

As in previous years, I want to make special mention of Joe Hanfman for providing updates to each county's list throughout the year.

What Area Is Covered by This Report?

This report covers all of Maryland's 23 counties plus the District of Columbia (hereafter, when referring to counties, it is inclusive of the District of Columbia). The following graphic shows all of the Maryland counties plus the District. The second graphic shows the demarcation line (for the purposes of this report) between Maryland's Eastern and Western Shores - the C & D Canal in Cecil County. In Maryland, the C & D Canal begins at the MD/DE state line, continues due west through Chesapeake City, and connects with the Elk River. From there, the line of demarcation is the center line of the Elk River as it flows southwest until it adjoins the Chesapeake Bay. Everything north of the Elk River in Cecil County is considered Western Shore, such as Piney Creek Cove, Turkey Point, and Elk Neck State Park; everything south of the Elk River in Cecil County is considered Eastern Shore, such as Herring Island, Hollywood Beach, Veasey Cove, and Cabin John Creek.

Comments on the Lists

The number (58) of participants declined steeply from the last time this author did the report in 2015, when 89 participated.

The current maximum number of species reported for each locality is shown at the top of the respective life list tables. Joe Hanfman does a wonderful job of tracking and compiling the county lists every year, and readers will note some changes in each locality thanks to his due diligence in keeping these numbers up to date over the last five years since my last report.

Life Lists are indicated by the last year that they were updated. Only Life Lists that fall into one of the three following categories are published:

1. Those of active Maryland/DC birders that updated their totals for 2020.
2. Those of deceased birders if their totals are known.
3. Those that are near the top in a particular category regardless of when they were updated.

The top Yard Life Lists are also published regardless of when updated due to the fact that a Yard List may no longer be updated if one has moved from that location, but is still worthy of publishing.

All Year Lists are indicated by the year in which the total was achieved. Green font indicates those that are 2020 Year Lists.

Order of Counties – The order that county lists appear in this report is arranged by geography, beginning with Garrett County in western Maryland and proceeding east and south to Worcester County on the Eastern Shore.

LISTING

Nine birders reported 300 or more species in Maryland in 2020, led by Johnnie Ramos' 339 which ranks fourth all time and was only six species off Jim Stasz's 2012 record of 345.

Mark Hoffman remains in sole possession of first place in the State Life List category, presently with a formidable nine-bird lead over those that have reported. Twelve birders are now in the "400 Club" for the state with five additional knocking loudly on the door; there may be a few others in both categories that have not reported recently.

In total county ticks, John Hubbell became only the second birder besides Jim Stasz to break the 6,000 barrier, but he still has a way to go to catch Jim. Joe Hanfman is just a couple of birds away from also breaking the 6,000 barrier.

In month listing, Tim Carney set new single-year month records by breaking his own best September (206) and December (151) totals with new highs for each in 2020. Daniel Irons smoked the previous top Queen Anne's County Year List with a new high of 259, 23 better than the previous record. Four new yard Year List records were set: Kyle Klotz (51) in Garrett County, Russ Ruffing (153) in Howard County, Matt Hafner (157) in Harford County, and John Hubbell (100) in the District.

Bird of the Year

48 birders participated in the 2020 Bird of the Year vote. There were 13 records that birders could vote for, and they were required to select their top five for the year from that list. As I compiled the votes as I received them, it was fascinating to watch how the top two species vied for the #1 overall ranking with every new vote.

The winner of Bird of the Year in 2020 was Maryland's 1st record of Black-chinned Hummingbird, viewed by many in St. Mary's County. This species was probably a bit overdue to show up in the state. Notice the breakdown of 1st through 5th place votes between records in the table, below. There were several other exceptional records in the region as well, and many of them received a considerable number of top votes.

Each 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th place vote was assigned 5 points, 4 points, 3 points, 2 points, and 1 point, respectively.

Birders could vote on one of the following 13 records for 2020 Bird of the Year:

MD's 1st record of Black-chinned Hummingbird (St. Mary's Co.)
MD's 3rd record and 1st since 2003 of Mountain Bluebird (Harford Co.)
MD's 2nd record and first since 1983 of Burrowing Owl (St. Mary's Co.)
MD's 2nd, 3rd, and 4th records of Pacific Slope/Cordilleran Flycatcher in a 2 week period
MD's 5th record and 1st since 2005 of Curlew Sandpiper (Harford Co.)
DC's 1st record of Barnacle Goose
MD's 7th Western Grebe plus a potential Western/Clark's Grebe hybrid (Baltimore Co.)
MD's 2nd record of Golden-crowned Sparrow (Queen Anne's Co.)
MD's 3rd record of Reddish Egret (Somerset Co.)
Several late fall records of Magnificent Frigatebird (only three previous accepted records)
MD's 3rd record and 1st spring record of Bell's Vireo (Queen Anne's Co.)
MD's 5th record and 1st spring record of Vermilion Flycatcher (Talbot Co.)
MD's 7th Record/3rd modern record of Black-headed Grosbeak (Caroline Co.)

Here are the results of the Bird of the Year voting:

Day Ticks (Maryland only)

This is a new listing category for 2020. A Day Tick counts as one species seen on a particular calendar day of the year. Because - counting February 29 in a leap year - there are 366 days in a year, each species can provide a maximum total of 366 Day Ticks. For example, if over time you've seen an American Robin on every calendar day, that would give you 366 Day Ticks. Hopefully in future reporting years, more birders will participate in this fun listing game. For now, Joe Hanfman has a clear lead on all who've participated in this listing category.

Garrett County

Kyle Klotz and Aaron Graham really came on strong the last few years to close the gap on and surpass J.B. Churchill for tops in the Life List category (that's what happens when you relocate to a new county, J.B.!). In the Year List category, Aaron gave it a grand effort but still fell one short of Kyle's best of 238 in 2018.

There are no Big Days in the database for Garrett county.

Allegany County

In Allegany County, Jim Paulus (273) remains atop the Life List category. J.B. Churchill has narrowed the gap to seven birds. Mikey Lutmerding still holds the all-time high Year List (213 in 2007) for Allegany County; there were no 2020 Year Lists that were worthy of publishing.

There are no Big Days in the database for Allegany county.

Howard County

Jo Solem retained her Life List lead and even added one to her total when she saw Jeff Culler's White-winged Dove feeder visitor in 2020. Recent Year List totals for the county have not approached the big 2012 year when 231 topped the charts, although Joe Hanfman's 221 was one of the better recent Year Lists.

There are Big Days in every month for Howard County; all are shown in the Big Day table later in the report. All were achieved by the Ruffing/Fink/Rogosky team with the exception of April (Ruffing, Fink, Allen Lewis), June (Ruffing), and November (Ruffing).

Montgomery County

With Dave Czaplak's Life List updated this year, his Life List is a full 22 higher than anyone else in the county. There hasn't been a Year List for the county that has come close to Dave's 242 in several years. There are two Big Days in the database for Montgomery County, an August foray by Rob and Mike Ostrowski in which they tallied 106 species, and an early May 2015 attempt by Max Wilson and Kari Cohen in which they tallied 104 species.

Cecil County

Sean McCandless' Life List total (last updated in 2014) is still tops. This county typically gets very little participation in the Annual Report year after year, and it is likely that there are other lists that would make the cutoffs shown below if reported. There are four Big Days in the database for Cecil County, all in May, with the highest of 136 from 1998 (Marcia Watson, Leslie Fisher).

Harford County

Matt Hafner continues to lead in the Life List category with 310. Rick Blom's astounding 1999 year total of 255 year birds may never be broken, but if it is, it may be Josh Emm that does it. Josh had a very respectable 2020 Year List of 248. There is one Big Day in the database for Harford County, a May attempt by Matt Hafner, Jim Stasz, and Dave Webb totaling 138 species.

Talbot County

Henry Armistead's and Les Roslund's impressive 295 Life Lists are still tops but Les' tally is a bit outdated. In the Year List category, per Les, Vince DeSanctis set the all-time single year record in 2013 with 241 species. However, this record was not submitted or verified by Vince and therefore does not appear in the table below. Tim Carney had the most birds in 2020, with 199 species. There is one Big Day in the database for Talbot County, a solo May effort of 110 by Dave Palmer in May 2012.

Dorchester County

Henry Armistead's 311 Life List is still tops, and Henry also holds most of the top 25 Year Lists, including the all-time best of 244 from 1967! By the looks of it, that Year List number may never be approached again. The highest 2020 list was Joe Hanfman's 175 birds. There is one March Big Day from 2011, an effort of 113 by Jim Green, Bill Hubick, Mike Ostrowski, and Rob Ostrowski.

Somerset County

Jim Stasz maintains a huge 28 bird lead in the Life List category, though his number is now two years out of date. It is doubtful that anyone will ever threaten his 1982 Year List total of 245. Aaron Graham and Daniel Irons definitely put in a good effort in 2020, with 214 and 206, respectively. There are no Big Days in the database for Somerset County.

Wicomico County

Sam Dyke still holds the Life List title at 304, and is the only birder over the 300 mark for the county. He also owns most of the top all-time high Year Lists for the county, but Joe Hanfman's incredible 225 from 2018 is tops, despite Joe being an out-of-county birder! There were no significant year lists submitted in 2020 but Aaron Graham led the way with 127. There are no Big Days in the database for Wicomico County.

Worcester County

Mark Hoffman's 370 leads in the Life List category for Worcester, and his 303 Year List total from 1994 still remains the only one on record that exceeded the magical 300 mark in any county. Marcia Balestri's 270 was tops in 2020. There are three Big Days in the database for Worcester County – one in May (Hafner, Hubick, Brighton, and Lutmerding) which recorded 158 species, one in January (Tim Carney, 75 species), and one in April (Tim Carney, Jared Fisher, and Ryan Johnson), on which they tallied 147 species.

Big Day Records

New Big Day records added since the last report are shown in green font. 214 is the all-time high Big Day for Maryland, an effort by Marshall Illiff, Matt Hafner, Jim Stasz, and Andrew Farnsworth on 5/22/2002. Only six official plus two unofficial “noon-to-noon” Big Days (shown in red font in the second table) have exceeded 200 species.

Most if not all of the District Big Days shown in red font were efforts by a Dave Czaplak-led team some years ago. I was not able to determine the participants of the three Maryland Big Day records shown in red font (June, September, and November).

Ten counties still have NO Big Days on record, including Baltimore (really?) and the five western counties plus Kent, Caroline, Somerset, and Wicomico. There have not been any multi-county Big Days conducted on the western shore. A two-county Eastern Shore Big Day was run on 2/29/2020 by the Irons brothers, Aaron Graham, and Baxter Beamer in Somerset and Worcester Counties.

By the time you read this, you will still have time to plan for summer and fall Big Days in 2021, and remember even a House Sparrow is an exciting bird on a Big Day! Get out there and establish a record in your home county! Just remember to play by the ABA Big Day rules!

District of Columbia

Dave Czaplak increased his DC Life List total to 306 in 2020, nine clear of Paul Pisano's next-highest total but the gap has been closing in recent years. Dave's 240 Year List from 1983 still leads in the Year List category, although Hugh McGuinness had a very commendable 221 in 2020, as did Daniel Sloan with 215.

The DC Big Day record is a solid 134, achieved on 5/6/1989 by D. Czaplak, G. Gough, O. Janni, and M. Jennison. Thanks to a team usually led by D. Czaplak for most of the 1980's, there are more DC Big Days in the database than any Maryland county.
