Annual Birding Report

For 2018

Roseate Spoonbill, found and photographed by Mikey Lutmerding at North Beach Marsh, Calvert County.

A Report of MD/DC Birding & Listing

Produced by Dave Powell

What's The Purpose of This Report?

This is the 31st year that a report of this nature has been compiled and published. The report was begun in 1986 by Harvey Mudd, was taken on by Phil Davis in the early 1990s, and then was passed on to Norm Saunders with the 2001 List Report. After Norm's decade or so of service, Russ Ruffing assumed the reins beginning with the 2011 Report and published a comprehensive report for the next five years. There was a two year break from the last report before I volunteered to take over the publishing of the 2018 report.

2018 Report

When you read this report, you will find a more streamlined report from what Russ Ruffing had created in past years. While still over fifty pages in length, it does not contain some of the information from previous reports. Russ's reports were fantastic, but I did not have the time or effort to complete a similar undertaking. A reader will also notice I had some issues from switching formats for the 2018 report, hopefully it will not take away from the content.

I'm sure the annual report may still have some errors or omissions. If you find any, please contact me at Seneca.ranger@gmail.com and I will try to make the corrections. I am reminded of a quote from Rick Blom from a list he created for Conowingo Dam. Rick, besides being one of the best birders in Maryland, was also a gifted writer.

"Any list this long contains errors of fact and omission. They are entirely mine and I will resist aggressively any effort by anyone else to take credit for them."

I have also included a section recapping some of the great finds during 2018 as well as the years 2016 and 2017 when no report was completed. There is a surprise at the end of this report, for those birders who would like to compare the current annual birding report with the first one completed in 1986. Through the assistance of Phil Davis and Tom Strickwerda, I have copied Harvey Mudd's entire report published in the 1987 Yellowthroat.

Enjoy,

Dave

MD / DC Listing

The past year brought some fantastic birds to Maryland and DC and many of them stayed days or even weeks allowing the birding community to view the many rarities. Ten or twenty years ago, the listing plateau was to reach 350 in Maryland. Not anymore, the new plateau is now 400. Nine Maryland listers have passed 400 and another twenty or so are getting very close. The only downer for listers was the removal of Cape Verde Shearwater in Maryland and Thayer's Gull for all ABA lists. Below is a re-cap of the past three years for Maryland and DC.

2018

A Pink-footed Goose was found in Caroline County by Dan Small and John Hubbell.

A Black-throated Gray Warbler was found by Josh Emm at a Havre de Grace feeder allowing multiple birders a chance to see this western warbler.

An Anhinga was found in Baltimore

A Sabine's Gull was found in DC.

A Purple Gallinule was found by the Ft. Smallwood hawk watch team. While the bird stayed for days, it tormented birders with its brief looks at times.

Several Dickcissels made it to Garrett County this spring, one was found by a big day team and another by Gemma Radko.

On Poplar Island, a Black Skimmer made an appearance. Another Black Skimmer was found by Tim Carney in Baltimore County.

A Wood Stork appeared in Howard County for two days.

A one day appearance of a Limpkin in a Howard County yard also caused quite a stir.

Another or the same Wood Stork showed up in Frederick County.

Roseate Spoonbills were reported all over the country in 2018. The first to appear in Maryland appeared in North Marsh in June and was found by Mikey Lutmerding. The Spoonbill stayed around for several weeks, allowing many Maryland birders a view of this stunning rarity. Other Roseate Spoonbills showed up in Worcester, Montgomery and Prince Georges Prince Georges counties.

A Great Cormorant was found in DC by Greg Gough

A Red Phalarope was found in Garrett County.

A Sandwich Tern was spotted in Wicomico County.

A Hudsonian Godwit was found by Rick Cheicante in Harford county.

Franklin's Gulls were spotted in Calvert and Montgomery Counties.

A Western Grebe was seen in Worcester County.

A Brown Booby was found by Daniel Irons and family in Queen Anne's waters. Others were able to view the Brown Booby in both Queen Anne and Kent County.

A Franklin's Gull was found in DC

Tim Carney found a LeConte's Sparrow in Baltimore County.

A Black-headed Gull was found in DC.

A Calliope Hummingbird showed up at a house in Anne Arundel, putting on a show for weeks.

Tim Carney found a Barnacle Goose in Baltimore County.

A Varied Thrush was found in St. Mary's County by Zach Stickney in his yard. A gracious community allowed birders to visit the area during the next several months.

A Loggerhead Shrike was found at Kenilworth Park in DC. The next day birders found a Nelson's Sparrow and a Marsh Wren in the same area.

A Scissor-tailed Flycatcher was seen in DC

2017

A Common Eider was found at Point Lookout in St. Mary's County.

A Scissor-tailed Flycatcher was seen in Ocean City.

A Painted Bunting was a regular visitor to a Berlin feeder in Worcester County.

A Prairie Falcon was a surprised visitor to DC.

A Whimbrel was seen in DC by Paul Pisano.

Bill Hubick found a Bicknell's Thrush among the multitude of thrushes visiting his backyard. He graciously opened his yard for visitors.

An Ash-throated Flycatcher made a visit to Kenilworth Park in DC.

Mikey Lutmerding found a Neotropical Cormorant in Calvert County

Matt Hafner found a Sharp-tailed Sandpiper at Swan Creek in Anne Arundel County. While birders were looking at the fantastic shorebird, a Yellow-headed Blackbird made an appearance with a blackbird flock right.

A Harris Sparrow was seen and reported by a Ranger along the Anacostia Riverwalk Trail in Prince Georges County. Birders also found an Ash-throated Flycatcher in the area.

Joshua Heiser found a Shiny Cowbird visiting his backyard in Montgomery County and his family graciously allowed birders to visit.

Daniel and Jonathon Irons found a Gray Kingbird on their property in Queen Anne's County. The family graciously allowed visitors during the next several weeks.

Scott Houston found a Fork-tailed Flycatcher at Sunset Park in Ocean City.

Frank Hawkins spotted a Golden Eagle in DC.

2016

A Lazuli Bunting was found during the OC Christmas Count and stayed in the area for several weeks

A Vermilion Flycatcher was found during a Christmas Count in Kent County stayed for several weeks. Many birders were able to visit due to the property owner's kindness.

On the same Christmas count, a Loggerhead Shrike was found in Kent County.

A Black-headed Grosbeak made an appearance at a feeder in St. Mary's County.

Montgomery County had a bunch of great birds in 2016, the first being an Ash-throated Flycatcher found by Robert Parsons, followed by a Ross's Goose found by Mike Ostrowski. A Lark Sparrow was also found at the Polo grounds entrance and Jared Fisher found a Seaside Sparrow in a wetland area in Kensington.

A Lark Sparrow was found at Sparrow's Point in Baltimore County.

In June, an Artic and Roseate Tern was seen on a pelagic. Another one was found by Tim Carney in Ocean City.

A Magnificent Frigatebird was seen in Ocean City by Bobby Wilcox and Kailin Murphy.

A Sabine's Gull was found at Riley's Lock in Montgomery County by Dave Czaplak. Another Sabine's Gull was found was found on Polar Island in Talbot County by Tim Carney

A Ruff was found on Poplar Island in Talbot County by Kurt Schwarz. Another Ruff was found was found at Swan Harbor in Harford County by Josh Emm and Chris Starling.

A Baird's Sandpiper was found in DC by Daniel Sloan.

On an August pelagic, Mikey Lutmerding spotted a Masked Booby.

In September, DC was in shorebird heaven, with Buff-breasted Sandpiper, Ruddy Turnstone and Black-bellied and Golden Plovers being seen on the Potomac grass mats.

A Gray Kingbird was found in Kent County.

A Black-throated Gray Warbler was found by visiting out of state birders in Havre de Grace (Harford County) and subsequently re-found by many Maryland birders.

Another Black-throated Gray Warbler was found in the DC by Hugh McGuinness.

Frank Hawkins found several Snow Buntings at Hains Point in DC.

Several Sandhill Cranes were spotted flying over DC by Evan Houston.

What Birders Had to Say About 2018!

This section includes the comments and/or new Maryland Life Birds that were submitted by participants. When included, new Maryland Life Birds observed in 2018 are listed first.

Max Wilson - Wood Stork, Roseate Spoonbill, Upland Sandpiper, Red-necked Phalarope, Bay-breasted Warbler, Lincoln's Sparrow, Orange-crowned Warbler, Franklin's Gull, Calliope Hummingbird, Varied Thrush

I've been working on my home county (Montgomery) and state lists, as well as working on my day listing numbers. The Potomac River Upland Sandpiper and Cape St. Claire Calliope Hummingbird were lifers for me, and the Varied Thrush brought me to St. Mary's county for the first time. My most interesting self-found bird this year was a Virginia Rail at Hughes Hollow on January 23rd.

Mike Bowen - 1. Roseate Spoonbill. Seen twice in 2018 -- first at North Beach marsh on July 4. then (and perhaps even more exciting), above Pennyfield Lock in Montgomery County on August 15. The Montgomery County Spoonbill did not hang around for long -- in fact it disappeared that very morning.
2. Varied Thrush in St. Mary's on December 27.

Mark Rosito - Purple Gallinule, Roseate Spoonbill, Wood Stork, Calliope Hummingbird, Varied Thrush

Paul Pisano - Roseate Spoonbill

Finally caught up with Roseate Spoonbill in the state!

Marcia Watson - Roseate Spoonbill, Calliope Hummingbird, Hudsonian Godwit

With a return to good health, I focused on getting out to bird in MD as much as I could in 2018. I do not participate in all-county birding nor do I ordinarily chase rarities more than a few miles from my home, but if a rarity pops up while I'm en route somewhere, I may stop in to see it. That said, my main focus in 2018 was in exploring some birding spots in my home county, Prince George's, that I had not previously birded. In 2018, I added 15 species to my Prince George's County life list and discovered some wonderful new birding spots, including Cheltenham Wetlands Park off Rte 301 between Upper Marlboro and Brandywine, and Rosaryville State Park just south of Upper Marlboro. I think my favorite new species in Prince George's was a little flock of American Tree Sparrows that I found at Patuxent Research Refuge - South Tract while leading a field trip there. I used to have Tree Sparrows annually at my feeders when I lived in Cecil County, but had not seen them since leaving Cecil at the end of 2009. In all, I submitted 612 eBird checklists during 2018, far surpassing my previous use of eBird, and I logged an average of 7 miles per week on foot while birding.

Jim Nelson - Clay-colored Sparrow

Best sighting of the year was the surprise visit in early October of a Clay-colored Sparrow to our backyard. A very brief sighting, but I was primed to identify it because I had been seeing them along with Chipping and Brewer's on a recent visit to Colorado and immediately recognized what it was.

Jeff Culler - Roseate Spoonbill, Varied Thrush

Ross Geredien - Ross's Goose, Barrow's Goldeneye, Little Gull, Clay-colored Sparrow, King Rail, Purple Gallinule, Roseate Spoonbill, Calliope Hummingbird, Orange-crowned Warbler

In 2018, I started focusing on county listing and also added some of my most-wanted species to my Maryland list, like Ross's Goose (finally!), King Rail, and Orange-crowned Warbler.

Gene Ricks - Rough-legged Hawk, Anhinga, Roseate Spoonbill, Evening Grosbeak, Calliope Hummingbird, Red Crossbill, Barnacle Goose, Varied Thrush

John Hubbell - Roseate Spoonbill

Don Simonson - Discovering the big Broad-winged Hawk crossing point on the Potomac River on September 29, 2019 (the several mile stretch visible upstream (west) from Violette's Lock, C and O Canal, Montgomery) was the biggest thrill of the year! The big Broad-winged Hawk and Blue Jay flight of September 29, 2019 (324 hawks seen in 3 hours; 208 Blue Jays in 30 minutes) started for me with two gorgeous bright BROADWINGED HAWKS lifting off from inside my own backyard! Hilarious because I had been watching a record blue jay flight only a few yards away. Julie Baxter and I tracked the big hawk cohort from our yard in Darnestown to the crossing point at Violette's Lock.

Jo Solem - Added Roseate Spoonbill, removed Thayer's Gull so no change.

Tyler Bell - Roseate Spoonbill, Shiny Cowbird, Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (SHCO and SPTS were 2017 but there wasn't a report last year!)

Phil Davis – Roseate Spoonbill

Scott Stafford - Flocks of Bobolinks (and butterflies!) at Hart-Miller Island and flocks of Tundra Swans at Deep Creek Lake.

H. David Fleischman – Varied Thrush, Red Crossbill, Barnacle Goos, Calliope Hummingbird, LeConte's Sparrow, Evening Grosbeak, Roseate Spoonbill, Alder Flycatcher, Ruffed Grouse, Wood Stork, Bicknell's Thrush, Purple Gallinule, Anhinga, Glaucous Gull, Lapland Longspur.

MaryAnn Todd - Roseate Spoonbill

Jared Fisher - Wood Stork, Roseate Spoonbill, Varied Thrush

Brenton Reyner - Purple Gallinule, Red-necked Phalarope, LeConte's Sparrow, Sedge Wren, Long-billed Dowitcher, White Ibis, Nelson's Sparrow, Evening Grosbeak, Sandhill Crane.

Most of my personal highlights from this year come from birding patches around my house, near Laytonsville in Montgomery County, and expanding their lists. This year I was able to see 146 species in patches within about 3 miles from my house, my top spot being my local section of the Seneca Creek Greenway Trail where I saw 121 species. Best birds from these patches include: Cerulean Warbler, Mourning Warbler, Little Blue Heron, and the county's latest record of Semipalmated Sandpiper in ebird at a neighborhood pond on my first visit there. Outside of the county, re-finding and photographing Tim Carney's LeConte's Sparrow at Masonville and picking up multiple state and life birds on the rarity roundup this year, the best of which probably being Evening Grosbeak, helped to make 2018 a great year of birding for me. I'm looking forward to all the great birds of 2019 and meeting more great people along the way!

Chuck Stirrat – Roseate Spoonbill

Derek Hudgins - Yellow-headed Blackbird, Purple Gallinule, Alder Flycatcher, Piping Plover, Roseate Spoonbill, Wood Stork, Calliope Hummingbird

Marcia Balestri – Wood Stork, Roseate Spoonbill, Varied Thrush

Matt Hafner – Western Grebe, Roseate Spoonbill

I added 3 species to my Harford County list and was very excited to have found 2 of them myself. Summer Tanager, Buff-breasted Sandpiper, and Hudsonian Godwit. I doubt I can keep that pace up at 300+ species, but I'm going to try!

Jim Green – Roseate Spoonbill

Joel Martin – Roseate Spoonbill, Wood Stork

Jim Stasz – Roseate Spoonbill

Jane Kostenko – Roseate Spoonbill, Shiny Cowbird (SHCO was 2017 but there wasn't a report last year!)

Dennis Kirkwood - Anhinga, Purple Gallinule, Roseate Spoonbill, Wood Stork, Hudsonian Godwit, Varied Thrush

Great year with 6 State birds and 3 Harford County birds! Hope 2019 is even better.

Kurt Schwarz - Roseate Spoonbill, Varied Thrush

Tim Carney – Purple Gallinule, Wood Stork, Roseate Spoonbill, Calliope Hummingbird, Varied Thrush

Personal highlights from 2018:

- Finding Garrett County's second Snowy Egret
- Finding the first probable breeding Cerulean Warbler on the Gunpowder River in 17 years
- Finding Baltimore City's first Black Skimmer and LeConte's Sparrow
- Finding a flock of Red Crossbills comprised of three types (1, 2, and 10), including one that might be a first state record (Type 2)
- Finding Baltimore's (City and County) first Barnacle Goose
- Successful rarity chases including Painted Bunting, Black-throated Gray Warbler, Black-necked Stilt, Anhinga, Purple Gallinule, Wood Stork, Roseate Spoonbill, Calliope Hummingbird, Varied Thrush, etc.

Mark Rosito -Purple Gallinule, Roseate Spoonbill, Wood Stork, Calliope Hummingbird, Varied Thrush

George Jett - Roseate Spoonbill, North Beach, Calvert Co., MD June 18, 2018

I birded in Africa more during 2018 than I did in Maryland

Gail Mackiernan

Most unexpected in 2018 was the Loggerhead Shrike at Kenilworth Park, DC and the Lapland Longspurs in PG Co., both in October; most gratifying was the Roseate Spoonbill in Montgomery Co in August, since I had dipped on the Anne Arundel bird twice. Looking back, since the last report in 2015, the amazing suite of rarities in late 2016 was almost unprecedented: Say's Phoebe, Gray Kingbird, Black-throated Gray Warbler, Black-headed Grosbeak and Vermillion Flycatcher!

Joe Hanfman - Varied Thrush

My highlighted Maryland birds were Pink-footed Goose in Caroline, Cal the Calliope in Anne Arundel, Purple Gallinule in Anne Arundel, Red Phalarope in Garrett, Franklin's Gull in Calvert, Sandwich Tern in Wicomico, Roseate Spoonbills in Calvert and Montgomery, Varied Thrush in St. Mary's, and Black-throated Gray Warbler in Harford.

Duvall Sollers – Roseate Spoonbill, Varied Thrush

Kathy Calvert - Roseate Spoonbill, Barnacle Goose, Varied Thrush

My favorite bird of the year was the Barnacle Goose, because it was a Lifer for me. Thanks, Tim Carney! Among my best experiences were finally getting two nemesis birds in Frederick, the Swallow-tailed Kite and the Evening Grosbeak. Birding with friends always rates high among great experiences. I had lots of good times with Marcia, Jim G, and Orietta this year, plus many others who shared laughs and expertise with me throughout the state.

Dave Powell – Roseate Spoonbill

Maryland Yellowthroat – First annual birding report.

Mill Creek Publication Available

An important study of this MOS sanctuary has become available: Reese, J.G. 1985. MOS Mill Creek Preserve: Resources, Preservation, Management. 84pp. The comprehensive study includes an inventory of the physical and biological components of the preserve necessary for basic long-range planning. Legal information and objectives for preservation are presented. Plans for implementation of the various parameters associated with each objective are discussed in detail. Copies can be obtained for $7.50 from the Talbot Chapter MOS, Box 612, Easton, Maryland 21660. They are an effort to offset some of the expenses of the study.

Locality Bird Lists

The results are in!!

Many persons responded to our request for locality lists. And, we are delighted that so many were willing to share their totals. Not only did persons from Maryland, D.C. and Virginia respond but so did others from Pennsylvania, California, Wyoming, and even from Switzerland and Paraguay.

The responses were compiled and are presented for your information. The cumulative Maryland State totals are presented followed by the cumulative County and the District of Columbia totals. The annual lists are presented separately. For each locality, the estimated number of species is shown for your reference and designated by an asterisk (*). We are grateful to Robert Ringler for providing the estimated numbers for Maryland and its localities, and to David Czaplak for the estimated number for the District of Columbia.

Some also submitted information on speciality lists such as yard lists, feeder lists, and lists for specifically defined areas. Would other readers like to have such information collected and published in January 1988 when we publish next year's report? Any other ideas?

This is a good beginning!! We hope that you enjoy perusing the information as much as we enjoyed presenting it. We also look forward to your continued participation. And hope that more MOS'ers will share their lists in the future. We plan to publish the data form again in the November/December 1987 issue of The Maryland Yellowthroat. Be sure to look for it, complete it, and send it in.

Thank You,
Harvey Mudd
